More than ten conferences, panels and round tables around essential topics in a difficult global context and more particularly for the countries of the Sahel. Many challenges to be met through experience sharing, discussions with national and international experts, presentations and solutions from private and public companies operating in strategic areas.

More than 30 countries invited with the participation of official delegations.

Several Jobs and training to discover.

SYSDEF thus wants to encourage vocations in the sectors of safety, defense and security, civil protection, digital investigation and disruptive technologies (Blockchain and post-quantum cryptography).
Do you dream of becoming an Air Force pilot? It can start here!

Finally, for young innovators, retired soldiers reconverted in the Defense and Security industry, SYSDEF LAB is dedicating a space to you and will award prizes to the best of you on July 6th at the closing of the show.
